School Report.

To the legal voters in the School District of Belmont:

In keeping with a long continued custom, and the law of the state, we submit the following School Report. We have endeavored to do our duty in a faithful and impartial manner in all matters which come within our sphere of effort. Conscious of our fallibility, we confess our liability to make mistakes.

We have used the money which was appropriated for painting and repairing school-houses in as economical and judicious manner as possible. The village school-house received two coats of paint which were much needed, while one coat was applied to the Jamestown, Union and Ladd Hill school-houses. Quite extensive repairs were made on the interior of the two last mentioned, which were found to be in a bad condition. This was especially true of the Union. A small expense has made it an inviting school-room. If the uncomfortable and antiquated benches could be replaced by modern adjustable desks it would be a good school-building, a credit to any community. At the present time all our school-buildings are in a good condition, with the exception of those wooden benches, which come down from the fathers.

Schools have been maintained in the usual places. We have had a school-year of thirty-one weeks, which is the longest we have had under the present system. The most of our schools have had a prosperous year. Good progress was made and the work gave excellent satisfaction.

We regret that a failure, in part at least, was seen in some which usually give good satisfaction In some cases the selection of teachers was not judicious, but was the best we could do under the circumstances. In other cases the teachers were in all respects qualified, but failed to meet the demands of pupils and some parents who rarely visit the school-room. A lack of tact on the part of the teacher, and something akin to prejudice elsewhere, or to put it in a different form, a lack of adaptation, made success impossible and rendered nugatory efforts which deserved a good degree of success.

For the first time in the history of the town a public graduation occurred at the close of the Spring term of the Grammar school, when a class of eight four boys and four girls graduated with honor, and showed such talent and scholarship as to reflect credit upon themselves the school and its teacher, and the town itself. Persons who are competent to form an intelligent opinion upon such matters pronounced the exercises equal to those seen in institutions which claim a higher rank. It is to be hoped such graduations may be held each year for the encouragement of the scholars and to keep our larger boys and girls in school until they have acquired a good Grammar-school education, or are prepared to enter higher institutions of learning. The benefits to be derived will many times repay all labor and expense.

We wish to call attention to the small number of scholars found in some of our schools, the Jamestown and Plummer schools in particular. Only half-a-dozen pupils were registered in each of them during the Winter term, and in one the attendance decreased so that we deemed it unwise to continue the school and closed it in the midst of the term. It seems to be unjust and uncalled for to maintain a school for such a small number, especially when the most of them can be accommodated in other schools. This is a matter concerning which we need your advice, and your unselfish and intelligent cooperation. It is useless to count on an increase of scholars in coming years. We must keep in mind the universal trend of things in this age which is constantly depopulating our rural neighborhoods and decreasing the number of school children. The subject demands more than a passing thought and is receiving the attention of educators in all our New England states.

It is well known that a lady has been at the head of our village school for a number of years, and many intelligent citizens consider it wise and expedient to continue the practice, while many others, including part of the School-board, demand a man in that position, and it is evident that they will not be satisfied until one is there. We have yielded to this demand and have engaged a man for the Spring with the idea of retaining him if he gives satisfaction. To secure a man who is fully qualified to do the work which has been done in the school during the past few years will necessitate a larger outlay—a matter to be seriously considered. You must either make a larger appropriation or be satisfied with a shorter school-year. We sincerely trust this added expense will bring a satisfactory return.

One of our number visited some of the schools in Greater New York a few months ago, and found that our boys and girls stand higher in scholarship than boys and girls of the same age and corresponding grades in that metropolis with its longer school year and greater educational advantages. To us this is a matter of congratulation, and tells of excellent work on the part of teachers and pupils.

At the last session of the legislature a law was enacted which compels towns having no High-school to pay the tuition of their scholars who attend academies, seminaries and high-schools in other towns. The expense has been considerable for the last two terms, and the indications are that it will be larger in the Spring term. Without discussing the merits or wisdom of the law we must recognize its existence and prepare to meet its demands by fitting our pupils to avail themselves of its advantages.

For all other information in regard to the schools we refer you to the accompanying statistical table.

With thanks for all assistance, and encouraging sympathy in our efforts, we submit this report for your consideration.
